

Enabling and Disabling of Powering-Off of Computer System

Abstract of the Disclosure

A computer system powers off upon operation of a power switch when the power switch is enabled. A switch mask enables and disables the power switch without intervention by an operating system of the computer system.